

NOAH MILLER

I WROTE A POEM

China exploded in a window

But I guess that's what happens when you're a communist country

But don't fret

I just think too much

Einstein agrees

Studies show that thinking too much makes you stupid

And not thinking at all makes you a conservative

But even though imagination is more important than knowledge

Leading experts say that all you need is love

But that's bullshit

Food is important

And water

And shelter

And money

But not thinking

That's a luxury

Being rich doesn't make you that happy though

But you think it will

And that's why we have public education

And government

If we didn't think that money was important

People might learn something

And be happy

That's why in America

We exploded China

But they totally deserved it.
